

The Political Stakes of Cancer
New contexts, new subjectivities

Early Career Researchers Workshop
Bush House, South East Wing, Room 2.10
King's College, London
7-8, June 2022

DAY 0

6 June

18:30 – 22:00

Arrival and Pizza Night at KCL + academic speed dating

DAY 1

7 June

9:00 – 9:30

Breakfast at Strand Workshop Venue (pastries/coffee/tea)

9:30 – 10:30

KEYNOTE

Ruth Prince, University of Oslo

10:30 - 11:00

Tea/Coffee Break

11:00 – 12:30

PANEL 1 Personhood and Care

Mette Freier Hansen, University of Oslo

Survival and patients' perceptions of prostate cancer among patients diagnosed with prostate cancer receiving treatment at Ocean Road Cancer Institute: A mixed-method study.

Masha Denisova, Maastricht University

Cancer Care in Russia: swampy infrastructures and the role of private clinics for navigating patients

Lesego Kgatitswe, University of Witwatersrand

Engaging an African Feminist lens in understanding the lived experience of women diagnosed with breast cancer in Kimberley, South Africa

Rebecca Henderson, University of Florida

Unstable Oncology: In Pursuit of Evidence-Based Cancer Care Amid Crisis in Haiti

Discussant: Cecilia Van Hollen (15 minutes)

Discussion (15 minutes)

12:30 – 13:30

LUNCH

13:30 – 14:45

PANEL 2 Social and material environments

Jennifer Fraser and David Reubi, King's College London

Elusive Environments: Shifting Notions of the Environment in Cancer Research in late and early postcolonial Africa

Luiz Alves, Fiocruz, Brazil

Mapping risk, imagining society: cancer, inequalities and the epidemiological imaginaries of the social in Brazil (1960 - 2000)

Shagufta Bhangu, King's College London

Formations of the Social: Cancer Hospital and its 'Community' in North East India

Discussant: Kirsten Bell (15 minutes)

Discussion (15 minutes)

14:45 – 15:00

Tea/Coffee Break

15:00 – 16:30

PANEL 3 Beyond the clinic

Ying Chen (Online), National University Singapore

On the Self-cultivation of a Cancer Survivor: Qigong, Empowerment, and Politics of Patient Organizations in China

Zahra Hayat (Online), University of Berkeley

Palliative Encounters: Access, opiates, and spaces of impossibility in Pakistan

Nicholas Stepney, King's College London

Treatment as Prognosis: Pain Logics and Morphine's Temporal Imagination in Northwest India

Maya Raphael and Ignacia Arteaga (part online), University of Cambridge

Negotiating notions of 'justice' in early cancer detection research

Discussant: Marissa Mika (15 minutes)

Discussion (15 minutes)

19:00 – 22:00

DINNER at Boulevard Brasserie, Covent Garden

DAY 2

8 June

9:30 – 10:00

Breakfast at Strand Venue (pastries, tea, coffee)

10:00 – 11:15

PANEL 4 Technologies and infrastructures

Fabien Provost, King's College London

The Nuclear Hospital: How Atomic Research Reshapes Cancer Care in India

Thandeka Cochrane, King's College London

Caring for data/data as care: re-thinking cancer and care through the practices of cancer registrars in east and southern Africa

Violeta Argudo Portal, Institute of Public Goods and Policies, Spain

Testing cancer, testing genomics: the contours of genetic predisposition in breast and ovarian cancer in Spain

Solenn Thircuir and Heloise Pillayre, Université Claude Bernard Lyon 1 and Centre Léon Bérard in Lyon

Building the Europe of Cancer: The Scientific and Political Dimensions of the Constitution of European Networks on Rare Cancers

11:15 – 11:45

Tea/Coffee break

11:45 – 12:30

Discussant: Noémi Tousignant (15 minutes)

Discussion (15 minutes)

12:30 – 13:30

LUNCH

13:30 – 15:00

DISCUSSANTS PANEL

Noémi Tousignant

Marissa Mika

Cecilia Van Hollen

Kirsten Bell

Ruth Prince

Chairs: Carlo Caduff/David Reubi

15:00 – 15:30

Tea/Coffee Break

15:30 – 16:30

Group Discussions on Future of Network/Field

16:30 – 17:00

Closing

19:00 – 22:00

DINNER, Masala Zone, Covent Garden